The Louisiana Supreme Court ruled it will not review Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr's denial of a change of venue for the trial of Clay L. Shaw, charged early last year with having conspired to murder President John F. Kennedy. Shaw had asked that the trial be moved out of New Orleans on the basis of [illegible] local publicity. Assistant DA James L. Alcock said the defense has 14 days to appeal to the Supreme Court for a rehearing.
